10 PAGES TODAY

BY PLANE YET — The venerable Santa Claus, shown endeavoring himself to an admirer on another Cameron visit, will reach Cameron by airplane Tuesday afternoon in time to star in the annual Cameron Chamber Christmas parade. He will greet a host of county youngsters after the parade at the Courthouse Square for his annual discussion of Christmas needs and wants.

LL Group Plans $2,000 Campaign

About 25 Cameronsites attended an organizational meeting of the Cameron Little League Monday night and named six team captains for a Little League Park fund drive.

Chester Simons, vice-president of the League said that the following men were named team drive captains: Dr. S. H. Richardson, W. C. McIntosh, Charlie Burke, Niley J. Smith, James McGoldrick and Lavert McKinney.

Members of the drive team will be seeking funds during the next two weeks for construction of a ballpark at the Milam Institute Grounds donated by school officials for a public baseball park.

Simons told Rotarians two weeks ago of the need for $2,000 to complete fencing, erecting of 1,100-seat bleachers and layout of the 275-foot park.

He said the park will meet requirements for admission of the Cameron League into the National Little League Association and assure city team champions of further competition in district and state contests. Construction committee members are: Simons, McKinney, Jim Edwards and J. B. Earle.

There are now eight teams playing organized baseball in the summer program, including five Little League teams and three Babe Ruth teams.

Simons said the $2,000 in funds are sorely needed to complete the project. The bleachers are awaiting installation while city women have already graded down trees and the lot.

Next meeting of the group will be a progress report of the fund drive 12:15 p. m. December 8 at City Hall, Simons said.

Rotarian directors have voted $100 toward the drive, Rotary President George Childress told The Herald.

FILCHED—A reporter approached a house where a murder had been committed, and started through the entrance.

"Go along, go along," a police guard directed. "There's no admittance here."

"But I've got to get in," said the reporter. "I've been assigned to do the murder."

"Well, you're too late," announced the guard. "Someone has already done the job."

100 - 100 100

It may have been a cynical reason that prompted one of our regular column contributors to bring that bit in. We had cried the woes of pied type last week and he might have wanted to return the favor.

Nonetheless, we notice with keen interest the amazing record four youngsters are making in football circles in Del Mar.

We mean of course JC All-American Bobby Elliott, Warren Rinn, Guy Dillon and George Zarosky, recent Yoe High School grid stars, who have played key rolls in Del Mar's undefeated season and schedule appearances in the beautiful Rose Bowl in Pasadena, California.

100 - 100 - 100

Their example in athletics can mean much to future athletes at Yoe High School or anyone in reading distance of Cameron.

In conversations with one of the boys particularly, we found there was a tremendous devotion to the development of their skills. All have proved their skill and desire.

Santa To Arrive By Plane

Crews Erect Decorations For Christmas

Street decorations are up through out Cameron business districts for the 1959 Santa Parade, expected to be one of Cameron's best.

Chamber officials said that Texas Power and Light crews completed erecting the multi-colored aluminum streamers early this week. Streamers were put up at intersections and in the middle of downtown blocks.

Meanwhile Jaycees were planning to complete work this weekend on erecting the Community Christmas tree, lighting it and emplacing high fidelity equipment to pipe Christmas music from the Courthouse.

Workers finished reworking Christmas decorations Monday morning, according to Chamber Manager Richard Moseley.

Lights on the street decorations will be turned on for the first time Tuesday before the parade starts.

The Jaycee Santa Pals project called for contributions of new or used toys needing only minor repairs for delivery to area needy children prior to Christmas.

The "Christmas City" preparations drew the interest of many county and Cameron organizations, schools and churches.

Jaycees will erect a 30-foot Christmas tree this weekend and string it with lights. Christmas music will be played late afternoon of the parade and later during the Yuletide season.

Housing Authority Releases Report

An annual report from the 50-unit Cameron Housing Authority showed that 78 families have lived in the dwellings since July, 1958 at an average rental of $18.63 per unit.

Executive Director George McGeehee balanced total liabilities and assets at $546,743.83, including land structure and equipment assets of $532,358.18, cost of building the 36 units and 14 Negro units at two North Cameron sites.

Total payment of 10 percent of rents less utilities to the City of Cameron was $745.66 plus $439.97 for a development period from July 1, 1958 to Dec. 31, 1958.

Rent is based on 20 percent of the total family income after an $8 deduction for a utility allowance, the report showed. Water and garbage pick-up is paid by the housing authority.

FAMILIAR SCENE — This street scene of Cameron's 1958 Christmas parade will be duplicated if not bettered in Cameron's 1959 Yule parade through downtown Cameron. Parade upits will pass under $2,000 worth of new Street decorations and Santa will be greeted by Christmas music from atop the County Courthouse.

A Visit To Russia . . .

Poage Describes Soviet

W. R. "Bob" Poage, 11th Texas District Congressman, Tuesday described his travels in Russia in an address before a combined Kiwanis - Rotary - Lions Club audience at First Methodist Fellowship Hall.

It was the annual civic clubs joint Thanksgiving dinner, hosted this year by the Cameron Lions Club. President Richard Williams was master of ceremonies.

Rep. Poage destroyed some American - held misconceptions of the Soviet economy in discussing the extent of private ownership in Russian cities and rural areas.

Private ownership of collective farms, he said, is held throughout rural Russia. He said more than half of the farms were state-owned, but far less than half of the Russian farmers lived on them.

Private ownership, he said, followed the Russian revolution when Lenin and then Stalin found total Communism would not produce enough foodstuff to feed the Russian people. There followed a compromise in farm ownership that exists today in the collective or co-operatively owned farms.

The output of the farms is divided among the workers according to production, he said, in "recognizing a need for incentive. This proves that Lenin or Marx's communism will not work."

He described a frequent home ownership in smaller cities though the government is building hundreds of apartment developments in Moscow and other cities.

Poage noted that private enterprise or churches are not outwardly banned in Russia, but state control of products, labor and land make it impossible to operate a business against government controlled retail outlets. "If someone wants to build a church," he continued, "officials will only allow land for a construction site away from the city which has high taxi fare. So no one builds churches because they can't get the land where the people are."

Churches Full

He noted that Russian Churches were filled to capacity when he was there this fall, but most of the people were over 50. The youngest people, he noted, were not church-goers.

He said that government control of prices made it possible to maintain a 9 percent income tax across the board, but high profits built into prices prevented the consumer from buying much with his rubles.

In his visit to Uzbekistan, high, arid cotton growing country in Russia, he said that only 120 gins are available to take care of the annual 8 million - bale Russian crop.

Asked about the reception Americans receive, Poage said the Russian people are friendly, but great believers in their government. He opined they would support the Communist regime if war ever broke out between the U. S. and Russia.

Russia is the main part of the 15-republic Soviet Union, he noted. He was quick to point out that it was "rather clear that Iron Curtain satellites are dissatisfied with their lot."

He was introduced by Lester Williams, Cameron banker.

Council Approves Bids On Truck, Front-End Loader

The City Council Friday afternoon awarded two bids on new city equipment and rejected a third on a new roadgrader.

Woodum Auto Sales was awarded the bid on a dump truck at a low bid meeting specifications of $3,416.73. Mayor Bassel Wilson announced.

Other bids on the dump truck were: Heffley-Stedman Motor Co. and Schiller Motor Co. both submitted two bids each, three of which were considered by councilmen not to meet specifications. Schiller Motor Co. submitted two bids of $3,164.50 and $3,264.50. Heffley - Stedman's other bid was $3,279.02.

The Council also approved the time purchase of a front - end loader unit for $11,190. The bid was submitted by Browning and Ferris Co., Houston.

Wilson said all bids were rejected on the road grader and a new bid would be called for costs of rebuilding the present city grader.

Here's Weather Forecast

WEATHER FOR THE WEEK: A succession of cool fronts have plunged through the south Texas plains and into the Gulf of Mexico with gusty winds and low temperatures but a noticeable absence of precipitation. Heretofore this has been caused by the existence of dry air and cool temperatures ahead of the fronts, not giving sufficient contrast in air masses to create rain. However this situation seems about to change as a large area of high pressure, high humidity and warm temperatures in the western Atlantic continues to move westward to the Brazos - San Gabriel Basin by the end of the forecast period. This situation will contrast sharply with the cool air expected to spill into the central part of the state and guarantee moderate showers and ample cloud cover.

Milam Cattle Head For Yugoslavia

The Rev. Gerald R. Cobb, pastor of the Ben Arnold United E&R Church, announced this week that the Hereford Project, Inc. is sending four head of county cattle to Rijeka, Yugoslavia.

He said the cattle being sent averaged a gross weight gain of 2.2 pounds per day.

Over Mechanization May Become A Serious Problem

COLLEGE STATION — Mechanized farming is here to stay, but it is possible that there can be too much of a good thing, as over mechanization may become a serious problem for some farmers.

Machinery and equipment are occasionally purchased for convenience, with little or no thought given to whether or not it will be profitable, says Cecil Parker, extension farm management specialist. It may be more profitable for a farmer to invest in expanding farm operation than in buying more machinery.

The decision to buy a particular piece of farm machinery should depend on use to be made of the machine. How much the machine is used will determine whether it will be an asset or a liability. Custom hiring may be much more economical than outright ownership for many farmers.

Right size and type machine for the intended job is more economical to own and operate than one that is too large or too small.

First Place Won By Ideal Hatchery

Ideal Hatchery & Poultry Farm has won first place in income over feed and chick cost in the 10th annual California random sample test.

Leo Fuchs, owner of Ideal Hatchery, received notice of the win last week from Emory A. Johnson, superintendent of the Poultry Improvement Commission of California.

It marked the third state in which Ideal entries had won first in similar competition. Random sample tests in Missouri and Texas also have been won by Ideal entries in recent months.

County Agent Reports

Countians To Show Pecans

By J. D. Moore, County Agent
The County Pecan and Foods Show will be held in the Gillis Building next to Essinger's Grocery store on Houston Street in Cameron.

The date is December 3. Urban families are urged to enter as well as rural families. A quart jar of either IMPROVED or NATIVE pecans may be entered. There is no limit on the number of varieties entered by an individual or family. Juniors may enter as well as adults.

Vocational Agriculture teachers are invited to enter educational exhibits relating to Horticulture. Ribbons will be given for First, Second and Third place entries.

The County agents will pick up Pecan entries any where in the county, at the request of the exhibitors. Entries may be brought or sent to the show by 10:00 a. m. December 3.

Officials from A & M College will judge the Pecan Show. Cakes, pies, cookies, candy, yeast breads or quick breads may be entered in the Foods Show. All products in the Foods division must be made with pecans, and they must be made by the person who enters them. Entries will be received ONLY from 7:30 - 9:00 a. m. at the exhibit building, the morning of the show.

A national marketing quota referendum for peanut growers, the first in three years, will be held on December 15, according to Searcy Ferguson, chairman, Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The balloting will determine whether or not marketing quota will be in effect for the next three crops of peanuts.

If at least two - thirds of the votes are favorable, quotas will be in effect for the 1960, '61, and '62 crops of peanuts. Penalties will apply to "excess" peanuts, and price support will be available to growers who comply with their acreage allotments at the full level of support announced, said Ferguson.

If more than one - third of the voters oppose, quotas and penalties will not be in effect for the 1960 peanut crop, and the level of price support to eligible growers will drop to 50 percent of parity. In such a case, another referendum would be held in 1960 for the following three crops.

A grower will be eligible to vote in the December 15 referendum, Ferguson said, if he is entitled to share in 1959-crop peanuts planted for harvest as nuts on a farm having more than one acre of peanuts planted.

Peanut marketing quotas have been in effect each year since 1949. In the last referendum, quotas for the 1957, '58, '59 crops were favored by 93.5 percent of the growers voting.

Consignments totaled 824 cattle, 177 hogs and three sheep Thursday at Cameron Livestock Auction. The Cameron market was strong on hog prices while most classes of cattle and calves sold steady. Officials said there would be no sale Thursday, November 26, Thanksgiving Day.

Allotments For Cotton Farmers To Be Set Soon

Cotton acreage allotments for the 1960 upland crop are now being established for all the eligible farms in Milam County, according to the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Notices of the allotments will be mailed to farm operators well in advance of the December 15 referendum on 1960-crop cotton marketing quotas.

For 1960, as in 1959, two allotments - Choice (A) and Choice (B) - will be set for each farm. If marketing quotas are approved by at least two - thirds of the growers voting in the referendum, then each farm operator may elect a choice as to which allotment he wishes to comply with in growing his 1960 upland cotton crop. Choice (A) will be the "regular" farm allotment, and price support at not less than 75 percent of parity available on the cotton grown in compliance with it. Choice (B) will be a 40-per cent-larger farm allotment, and price support at not less than 60 per cent of parity available on the eligible cotton.

If marketing quotas are not approved by the necessary majority, then only the "regular" allotments will be in effect, and price support on cotton grown in compliance with the allotments will be available at 50 per cent of parity.

Mr. Sanders pointed out that the 1960 county allotment - representing the county's share of the State allotment, less any acreage reserved for new cotton farms - is divided among farms on which cotton was planted or "regarded as planted" in 1957, 1958, or 1959. An allotment may be "regarded as planted" if it was "reserved" under the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve Program or is it was otherwise preserved under some legal provision. The minimum farm allotment for "old" cotton farms is the smaller of 10 acres or the farm's allotment for 1958.

Bohac and Ted Vitek of Granger and Edwia Malcik of Rogers. The Ushers were Rudy Hrachovy and Willie Hrachovy, brothers of the bride, and Jerry Bohac of Granger and Joe Kopriva of Cameron were witnesses.

Mike Vrana, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Vrana of Granger, carried the rings on a white satin cushion trimmed in lace.

The bride's mother wore a brown dress with black accessories and had a white carnation corsage. The groom's mother chose a navy blue dress trimmed in white with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held at the Buckholts S. P. J. S. Hall. During the day music was furnished by the Bohac Sisters. The bride's table was laid in white lace tablecloths and held the bride's cake. The bride's cake was three-tiered, topped with cupid and embossed with blue roses, lilies - of - the - valley and surrounded by tulle.

A wedding dance was held at eight with music being furnished by the Vrazel Polka Band.

For traveling the bride wore an aqua outfit and had an orchid corsage.

LETTERS

To The Editor

November 23, 1959

Sir:

I have been doing some research recently concerning the latest, un-conscionable rate increase inflicted on the Cameron patrons of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, and I have found that we have a higher rate than the largest cities in Texas, or the smallest towns surrounding Cameron, and so far as I know in Texas.

Here are some examples of the rates, including taxes, in other cities, on one-party, residence phones:

Dallas	$6.05
San Antonio	$6.05
Austin	6.05
Temple	5.78
Taylor	6.05
Rockdale	5.78
CAMERON	6.33

The rates on business and party lines are correspondingly higher in Cameron, of course.

The manager at Taylor publishes his propaganda telling you what a fine telephone system you now have, and how much it cost the company, but he will not tell you that they are saving around six thousand dollars a month on the displaced operators' salaries and rents. He doesn't give the people of Cameron credit for having sense enough to know that the savings on salaries and rents in two or three years will pay for what he says the dial system cost, including the building cost.

This is the sixth substantial raise they have saddled us with in ten years, and apparently, there is no limit to what they will charge - eventually, if we will take all of their biennial raises in the future without a protest. Their attitude seems to be "Take it or leave it. We have the advantage and you can't do anything about it."

Well, what are we going to do about it, take it without a struggle, or organize and do something?

Mrs. Olie Mendoza, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Martell and Cindy Mendoza. Attendants wore street length dresses of red velvetene decorated at the waist with red lace leaves.

in 1956. Rinn was an all-conference player in 1957. Del Mar has roared through a rough 10-game schedule undefeated, winning the crucial game last week over Victoria Junior College, 14-10.

once by a Southwest Conference football player, Doak Walker.

Elliott also was nominated to play in the East-West Junior All-American football game. Forty-four boys from across junior college ranks make the team.

Rinn, a speedy halfback remembered for his outstanding defense and end runs, has been sparking both ways in the Viking lineup. And Dillon, another first year man from Cameron, has been cited for his rib-rocking defensive play.

Elliott had to drop out of Del Mar last year when he was stricken by an attack of encephalitis. He had started classes along with Rinn. Dillon transferred to Del Mar from Texas A & M where he had received a college scholarship. All four boys are attending Del Mar on football scholarships.

An end at Yoe High School, Zarosky has been playing tackle for Del Mar.

View On Sports

By Robert Mann

Yoe High School Senior James Fontaine received a well earned award, we believe, last week at the football banquet.

1960's approaching us rather fast as November is almost gone.

In the way of Cameron sports a lot has taken place. Bill Kruger, young basketball coach and considered one of the best was lost from Cameron along with track Coach Murphy Webster and C team coach Billy Michalka.

As the outstanding YHS gridder Fontaine went through the season without missing a game of action and showed at all times good conduct on and off the field.

A three-year letterman, Fontaine played at tackle his first two A-team years. This past season he switched to end where he filled in like an old pro.

The 6 foot, 175 pounder accepted the trophy based on citizenship, scholarship and ability.

VOS

Taking their places are Max Treadwell, Jerry Hopkins, and Harrison McLerran.

1959 was a bad year for the Yoemen grid team finishing the year with a record of 8 losses, a win, and a tie.

The Summer Recreation program was a success as it went on its own legs for the first time without a school-provided director. Plans are now being made to construct a new baseball playing field.

— VOS —

Attendance at the season's first basketball game was fair but could stand a lot of improvements.

With the student body carrying the large part of the crowd, Adults were scarce. Let's get behind Jerry Hopkins and the Yoe Basketballers.

It takes either push or pull to move and Yoemen want to go.

The 'Christmas City...'

Cameron is making traditional plans for another observance of the Christmas season, to be kicked off this year with the Santa parade that attracted about 8,000 people last December.

Accompanying this event will be the Christmas music from atop the Courthouse, the Community Christmas tree erected by Cameron Jaycees and new decorations made possible by Cameron Chamber of Commerce work.

Add to this program the fifth annual Santa Pals project of the Jaycees and one can find reason Cameron can lay claim to the title, "Christmas City."

Tradition is a great part of Cameron. Though a hindrance at times, tradition is what makes a community of people outstanding.

Analyze the major cities or any city of reknown and there is a tradition within their success. Dallas is a fashion and financial center; Fort Worth leads the Southwest as a cattle and oil center; Houston is a port city and fountainhead of tremendous natural resources. These are but a few.

Not all of these cities had natural resources. Their most essential commodity is people. We recall the address of a vice-president of one of Dallas' major banks in which he cited that city's most vital, only vital resource: people.

Cameron has its Christmas program probably as well developed as any city of 10,000 or less in Texas. That is a proud tradition, one of which she can build. And build she does, though it does not dabble and flash, rattle and bang, sizzle and burn.

This Christmas tradition did not develop overnight. It is taking years to grow. But its maturation will be more apparent when the Christmas parade this year shows the record number of floats and entries already assured by advanced registration.

It gives us heart to know this program has taken on larger proportions in the past few years when other cities of our size and economy have stepped aside for the larger towns to do the job.

Cameron knows in the excitement of another Christmas season that "letting George do it" usually means handing George the reins or, in this simile, like handing Temple or Waco the key to the city.

Yes, success is a tradition of Cameron, just as hard work is a traditional part of success. This city's Christmas program is a growing example of both.

Capital Report

LBJ Club Opens Austin Offices

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — First of the 1960 political headquarters signs will be up before the Christmas lights.

An executive committee, formed to steer the Johnson - for - President drive, is opening a state headquarters in downtown Austin. Goal of the state office is to add to the 60 or more county clubs for Johnson and eventually to expand into a national operation.

With two exceptions, the state's top Democratic brass is on the committee. Gov. Price Daniel and Speaker Sam Rayburn are honorary co-chairmen. Plans were announced by Ed Connally, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, and Byron Skelton, national committeeman.

Not on the committee are the state's junior senator, Ralph Yarborough, and national committeewoman, Mrs. R. D. Randolph. Both long identified with the party's liberal wing, have hedged questions on their presidential preferences.

TIGHT SCHEDULE
A possible time table for filling the three vacancies in the Legislature was set up by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson when Governor Daniel asked him for an opinion on the election law.

Forty days would be needed between the time the election is called and the time the new officials could take office, according to Wilson. This allows a required 35 days between the call and election day, two days for Commissioners Courts to canvass the votes and three days for county judges to certify the results to the secretary of state.

Law does not require that all the seats be filled in order to have a session, Wilson commented. But he said he felt it would be "Especially desirable if more taxes are to be voted because of the old American principle of no taxation without representation."

Governor Daniel has discussed calling a special session in January to raise money for teacher salary increases.

INSURANCE PLAN DEBATED
Impact of a big change in auto insurance rates, due to take effect Jan. 1, is a prime discussion topic among insurance circles as well as the motoring public.

Under the merit plan, drivers with no record of accidents or moving traffic violation for three years get a reduced rate. Others pay on a sliding scale up to double the usual rate, depending on the number and seriousness of their accidents and violations.

Opinions on the plan vary widely. Among them:

(1) It will make drivers more careful.
(2) It will make clear to the driving public the direct relationship between accidents and cost of insurance.

(3) It will cause "Bad" drivers to drop their insurance.

(4) It will result in more hassles over who was to blame for an accident. (Only the driver held responsible gets his insurance hike.)

(5) It will flood the courthouses with contests over traffic tickets.

(6) It will be declared illegal because of the "double jeopardy" principle. Some lawyers reason that the driver is punished for his violation once when he pays a fine and cannot be punished again with higher insurance rates.

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas recently predicted that merit rating would result in such an overflow of traffic cases that new courts would have to be created and new buildings to house them.

Others have complained that traffic laws and their enforcement are not uniform and that some drivers - victims of speed traps, for example, - will be penalized. Answer to this, says Insurance Board Chairman Penn J. Jackson, is to work out the wrinkles in law enforcement.

Insurance agents, in meetings and conferences over the state, are honing up on the new procedures, planning how to explain them to their customers.

Although the rules apply after January 1, present policyholders will not be affected until their contracts run out sometime next year.

The Little River Philosopher

Philosopher Wants Local Merchants To Treat Him Like Big TV Stars Get Treated

Dear editor:

The more I learn about the behind-the-scenes activities of television the more I'm convinced the industry is being run by human beings.

For example, one of the latest wrinkles uncovered by a Congressional investigating committee involves side pay-offs for small favors.

Like this: if a comedian can work in the mention of some product, the manufacturer will send him a free sample. Say he's being sponsored by a car manufacturer, well, of course he gets paid his regular salary for mentioning that, but if he mentions perfume, the perfume makers will send him a generous sample. If he mentions soda water, the same thing happens. Or refrigerators or hair dressing or stoves or tooth paste or shoes or razor blades or what not.

Well a lot of people are outraged at this and I am too, but not for the same reason. The reason I'm outraged is that I mention articles all the time in these letters to you, and does any store ever send me any free samples?

I figure there must be a possible reading audience in The Herald of at least 15,000 people, and if Cameron merchants were on their toes like the big-shot manufacturers they'd be flooding me with gifts. But what happens? Nothing. Why I've been mentioning the name of your paper off and on nearly every week, and you haven't ever been alert enough to send me a free subscription. Why don't you and the rest of the business people in this area get up on the national level and fight this television scandal by smothering me with gifts. It's getting monotonous, having Congress spend all its investigating energies on New York and Hollywood and completely ignoring us folks in Milam County.

In this letter alone I've mentioned a good many items I could use, and will be glad to mention more in the future. What are you hung on?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

When I attended high school, students - (or at least I did) memorized Kipling and Service. I knew by heart "Gunga Din" and "Mandalay" - and can still recall them almost completely; also "The Cremation of Sam McGee" and "Spell of the Yukon" by the bard of Klondike.

Do students nowadays, I wonder, memorize - voluntarily - poems? Perhaps you will reply that we have no new poets today who, like Kipling and Service in my time, captured the imagination. But I used to memorize Poe, Byron and Burns - and let me assure you that, contrary to what you may think, they wrote before my day. For that matter, grownups too have quit committing poems to memory. Back in the 1920's the rendition of "The Hermit of Sharktooth Shoal" and "Churchyard down at Ranger" enlivened many a friendly session when glasses were raised.

I'll bet nobody anywhere this year has memorized, "It was down in the Lehigh Valley."

What is humor?

I have written six books of humor which the public has bought in generous fashion and people have told me they laughed at the stories; and I have made hundreds of speeches, which people laughed at; but I can't tell you what humor is - or why something is funny.

Men who have given years of study to the subject - (I haven't had time to study it) - say that it is hard to draw the line between humor and pathos; the listenor laughs and yet feels half-incorporated to cry.

Not with all humor, but certainly with some of it this is true.

I will tell you a story that was told to me as an actual occurrence. It was while I was editor of the Ranger Times, back in 1929 - 31. A middle-aged Latin American woman entered the Western Union office and, in broken English asked, "You telegraph flowers?"

"Yes," replied the operator. She left but in a minute or so returned, in her hands a potted plant, and said, "Telegraph this to my son in Sweetwater."

Amusing? Yes. And I laughed. Then I saw the simple trust and faith of that woman and I saw the manifestation of a mother's love, and then it was amusing, no longer.

Lease Protects Hunter, Farmer

COLLEGE STATION Hunting leases are becoming more and more important to hunters, farmers and ranchers.

Hunters are interested in obtaining exclusive hunting rights in return for their payments to the landowner, while farmers and ranchers are interested in regulating the use of their land by other people and in supplementing their income, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist.

Whenever details of the leasing arrangement or amount of money involved are of importance, the lease should be in writing. A written lease provides a basis for discussion of all the provisions affecting both hunter and landowner, and a signed copy should be kept by each.

Cooper and Fred Sargent, assistant professor, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, have written a leaflet, entitled, "Hunting Leases." A sample of a lease designed to cover the minimum provisions which all parties concerned should have clearly understood is included.

Additional provisions should be added to the lease to cover special situations or conditions the contracting parties wish to include. Five additional provisions that can be added are also included.

Quail Hunters Told To Save Leg Bands

AUSTIN Quail hunters are urged again this year to send in bands when found on birds they kill, according to the assistant executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission. Many birds were released throughout the State this year from the State Game Farm near Tyler. All these birds have been banded.

The department is particularly anxious to get bands from any Coturnix quail killed by hunters. In this way it will be able to trace the movement of the birds.

Despite unseasonal weather, conditions still remain very good for quail hunting with the opening of the general season December 1, the secretary said.

He also announced that breeding stock of native bobwhite quail will be available for game breeders from the Tyler farm after Jan. 1. They will be available at $3 per pair. Applications should be sent to the Game Commission in Austin.

Fresh water fisherman shouldn't put aside their tackle during the winter months. Many big bass are caught fishing deep down.

A person can get just as drunk on water as on land.

Harry Alexander Completes Training

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (FHTNC) - Marine Pvt. Harry G. Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Alexander of Gause, Texas., completed recruit training Nov. 11 at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.

The 11-week course included instruction in all basic military subjects and infantry weapons.

Upon completion of training new Marines are assigned to a unit for further infantry training, or to one of the many Marine Corps schools.

ROAD SHOOTERS WARNED AUSTIN - Anxious hunters should not shoot game from public highways, warns Capt. E.M. Sprott director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission. And night hunting also is prohibited. Wardens have made a number of arrests already this year for headlighting. Courts have levied stiff fines.

47 Years of Dependable Electric Service
AN EXAMPLE OF AMERICAN FREE ENTERPRISE

Texas Power & Light Company, operating under our country's free enterprise system, has by sound management and careful planning kept ahead of the electrical service requirements of its service area.

During the past five years alone, the Company has spent more than $112 million dollars for construction of new power plants and other facilities to serve you. Today, the Company is busy building for future growth in the area it serves. One example of this is the Valley Generating Station being constructed in North Texas.

TP&L is a business-managed, investor-owned, electric utility company... a typical example of American free enterprise. Its expansion is carried on with private funds and requires none of your tax dollars. In contrast, government sponsored power projects consume rather than pay taxes.

Texas Power & Light Company takes pride in its nearly one-half century of service to the North, East and Central Texas area and pledges to continue supplying dependable, low-cost, electric service through efficient, business-managed operation.

Rogers Plans Two-Day Show For Area Pecans

December 4 and 5 will be the time of the 1959 second annual Pecan Show in Rogers, initiated and sponsored by the Rogers Community Service Club, and assisted by County Agent and others.

The show this year has two added attractions, namely: a Miss Pecan Queen Contest and a Baking Contest for the ladies. The Queen's contest will be held in the school gymnasium on the evening of December 4. Candidates for Pecan Queen must be residents of the Rogers school district, and they must be between the ages of 15 and 18.

Girls desiring to enter the race will contact Mrs. Woodrow Chervenka, Rogers. The Friday night show will end with the coronation of the Pecan Queen.

The other new division, the foods division, consists of food which must have pecans in it: cakes, cookies, quick breads, yeast bread, pies and candies. Entries will become the property of the show and they will be auctioned off to help pay for the expenses of sending the Queen to the state pecan contest.

In the pecan show which was the only division last year, there will be 17 classes of improved and native pecans, providing a class for every entry. Each entry must consist of enough pecans to fill a quart jar. All pecans become the property of the show and entries must be in place by 10 a.m. December 4. Winners in each class will be forwarded to A & M College where they will be entered in the state pecan show. Don Decker, Bell County Farm Agent, said Bell County was the top winning county in the state last year.
